This guide is the work of the members of the Toodyay Naturalists' Club Inc. It is a commemorative publication with member contributions celebrating fifty years from foundation - 1968 to 2018.

The Club's previous publication on this subject 'The Avon Valley: a Naturalists' View' - published in 1986 - provided a comprehensive list of one Toodyay reserve; it also covered other reserves in the Avon Valley. This publication is confined to the Shire of Toodyay.

In compiling this guide, members of the Toodyay Naturalists' Club Inc. acknowledge the first inhabitants, the Ballardong People, as carers of a unique and biological diverse landscape.

Additionally, they reference many of the contemporary works available that cover the Shire of Toodyay. The guide also provides links to further reading about the flora and fauna of the region. a brief description appears on the rear cover.
